Dear Parents/Carers

Next week we will be administering the End of Key Stage 2 Standard Assessment Tests (SATs). The children have worked tirelessly during their time in KS2 and this assessment is a culmination of their hard work. With their growing resilience and stamina, we are sure the children will take the assessments in their stride.

To aid their well-being during this time, we would like to invite the children to share breakfast together each morning next week, as well as finishing the week with a celebration (or as the children phrase it, 'End of Assessment Cake Day'!)

Your child is welcome to arrive at school at 8.30am each morning next week, come straight to the church and enjoy a feast of croissants and cereal, washed down with some fruit juice. We will then start our day.

The assessments are completed during the morning sessions, leaving us free to plan for our residential trip, and participate in our topic based subjects in the afternoons.

There are no assessments on the Friday, unless children have missed an assessment during the week. To mark the end of SATs, we are planning a day of celebration for the children. Donations of cake will be very welcome for this!

Kind regards,

Miss Wykes
